FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SEPTEMBER 19, 2018

Stuart, FL. – Straticon Construction announced today that well-regarded marina industry veteran, Dan Moore, has joined the firm as President of the Marine construction division. In this role, Moore will work closely with Straticon’s commercial upland management to provide leadership and oversight on all marina and marine related construction assignments.

"Dan is a veteran professional with immense knowledge of the marina construction industry," said Jeff Hardin, Owner and CEO of Straticon Construction. "With more than 30 years of marina and waterfront experience, Dan is poised to make an immediate impact on our business, offering expert oversight on turnkey marine construction projects and providing clients with the most cost-effective project management practices."

At Straticon, Moore will support the firm's project acquisition teams providing marina development planning, design & engineering, regulatory permitting, and turn key construction, including materials review of projects, as well as assisting and negotiation of construction costs on behalf of clients. Moore will also be responsible for supporting the growth of Straticon's Marine construction division through leading business development efforts and representing Straticon with various marine industry trade groups and in the community.

"I feel very honored for the opportunity to be associated with such an experienced & dedicated group of construction industry professionals. Straticon’s existing platform, strong financial stability and consistent track record of performance provides a distinct competitive advantage in the turnkey marina development & construction space.”, said Moore.

Moore joins Straticon Construction with vast industry experience and knowledge. Associated with a well-known global marine brand, from 2006 to March 2017, he served in roles as Executive Vice President, Chief Investment Officer, interim CFO and was a member of the Executive Management Committee. At his urging and direction, this 38-year old global marine brand was strategically transformed from a dock designer, manufacturer & supplier into a complete multi-disciplined turnkey marine solutions provider.

Moore is also the Founder and Principal at Coastal Group Realty Advisors, LLC based in Jupiter, Florida, a diversified commercial real estate investment, development and asset management firm with a unique specialty in coastal marinas and waterfront mixed use properties. Moore is lifelong boater and avid offshore sport fisherman who earned his bachelor's degree from West Chester University of Pennsylvania and attended graduate classes at the University of Pennsylvania.
